- Maintain existing websites
- Create Mailers/mail outs

Marotori are based in Guildford, Surrey and have been developing commercial websites for clients such as TigerBeer, Daily Telegraph and Momentum pictures. Teamed up with their design company "Juice", Marotori develop websites from scratch, averaging four to five websites a month depending on size. The role I took necessitated W3c standards and the knowledge of cross browser compatibility. I had to converse with clients on a daily basis and make sure that deadlines were met.
